

ENCLOSED APPLICATOR

ABSTRACT

An applicator fully sealed along with fluids such as perfume, disinfectant, or other medications within an elongated housing with one or more opening means is disclosed. The applicator may be a swab or an elongated member such as a toothpick. The applicator may also have two ends with the same or different applicator tips, and the two ends may be sealed in the elongated housing with the same fluid or different fluids at each end. When the applicator is exposed through the opening means, the fluid in the elongated housing may be applied through the applicator tip.